

The image is a detailed architectural rendering of a building's south facade. The central feature is a large, grey, textured wall with a prominent orange 'X' shape. Above the 'X', there is a horizontal band of small, repeating text. To the right of the 'X', a balcony with a glass railing and a person standing on it is visible. The building's base is dark, with silhouettes of people walking and a person on a bicycle. To the right of the building, there are silhouettes of trees and a low wall. The sky is a light, textured grey with several black bird silhouettes in flight. In the top right corner, there is a blue diagonal band with a grey geometric shape and blue arrows. A quote is overlaid on the left side of the image, and a scale bar and title are in the bottom right corner.
